Tour guide: "Los Angeles County Metro is unique among the nation's transportation. It provides safe, clean, courteous, reliable, on-time service. Most rail lines in LA start around 4 a.m. and keep running past midnight, but they're less frequent in the evening."

Tourists: "Any safety tips?"

Tour guide: "Yes, security is a top priority for the Metro. For example, you should always stand away from the edge of platform. Wait for exiting passengers to leave, then board. Also, watch the gap between the platform and train. Watch your step, especially at night or in wet weather. Don't skate on the platform, stairs or escalators and don't play near trains or tracks. Remember: pushing and shoving can cause accidents. If you travel with your child, hold on to your child when a train approaches. Last, take a seat if possible or use handrails."
