四、閱讀測驗【請依照段落上下文意，選出最適當的答案】

The sentiment that the expense of attaining a four-year college degree, particularly at a private school, isn't worth the outcome is certainly growing. But we need to remember that a college degree has benefits that last a lifetime. According to a report by The College Board, college graduates earn roughly 73 percent more than high school graduates, and those with advanced degrees earn two to three times as much as high school graduates. On average, college graduates earn $1 million more over their lifetimes than high school graduates. A recent study by the Brookings Institution further shows that college graduates ultimately lead healthier, longer lives. So while the cost of a college degree is not trivial, the benefits that graduates realize over their lifetimes are well worth the initial investment.

Many people also think that liberal arts graduates are not desirable employees in today's marketplace. The fact is that liberal arts graduates are highly desired by employers. While it may seem unreasonable that a broad-based education can be more beneficial than a skills-based one, it actually makes much sense. The core outcomes of a liberal arts education—the ability to think critically and creatively, work collaboratively, communicate clearly, adapt to new technologies, and navigate today's global economy—are not only desired by today's top employers, but also provide students with the skills they need to adapt to an ever-changing world. Today's graduates may have two or more different career paths during their lifetime, which makes a broad-based education even more beneficial.

Companies in the technology industry are aware of the benefits of a liberal arts degree. Google often advertises its appreciation for employees who can think creatively and adapt to evolving technologies, and Microsoft president Brad Smith and EVP of AI and Research Harry Shum wrote in their book that lessons from liberal arts will be critical to releasing the full potential of AI (artificial intelligence).

【3】36. What is the passage mainly about?

- ① Relationship between incomes and degrees
- ② Comparison of high school and college graduates
- ③ Misperceptions about college degrees and majors
- ④ The future of AI

【4】37. According to the passage, why do some people think that getting a college degree is not worthwhile?

- ① It takes too long to get a college degree.
- ② There are too many college graduates already.
- ③ There are not many job vacancies on the market because of the bad economy.
- ④ College education, especially at private schools, costs too much.

【2】38. What can be inferred from the passage?

- ① The cost of a college degree is actually quite affordable for everyone.
- ② On average, college graduates make more money and live healthier and longer lives.
- ③ Investment in getting a college degree is worth it only if you major in computer science.
- ④ College graduates make $1 million more on average every year than high school graduates.

【3】39. Why does the author mention Brad Smith and Harry Shum?

- ① To show that people with college degrees make more money
- ② To prove that skills-based education is better than broad-based education
- ③ To illustrate the value of a liberal arts degree
- ④ To give examples of how liberal arts graduates can be successful as well

【1】40. Which of the following will the author most likely recommend?

- ① Train college students to think creatively and collaborate with others.
- ② Do not go to college and use the money to start your own business instead.
- ③ Bring this passage and get a job at Microsoft.
- ④ Find a job in AI industry and write a book.

貳、英文【英文翻譯 2 題，占 50 分】

第一題：中翻英【配分 25 分】

台灣是全世界老化速度最快的國家，預估 2026 年 65 歲以上人口比例就會超過 20%，成為「超高齡社會」。此一危機讓國家財政壓力首當其衝，社福支出大幅提高。此外，台灣傳統社會「在家養老」觀念濃厚，家人或子女須扛起照護責任，長期下來的負擔恐形成「一人老、全家倒」的困境。【25 分】

第二題：英翻中【配分 25 分】

Sex education in American public schools is routinely criticized as lacking comprehensive information, using stigmatizing language, and increasing harm to students through abstinence-based programs when it comes to sexual orientation and gender identity. LGBTQ students generally feel unheard, unacknowledged, and unwelcome as the exclusion of such topics in the curriculum leaves many students physically and emotionally vulnerable. Now a growing number of more open-minded educators are promoting age-appropriate concepts of sexuality and gender at an earlier stage to build empathy and curb bullying. They believe those ideas are easier to be accepted and understood than if first introduced in middle and high schools, when most students' thoughts are already ingrained and thus difficult to reconstruct. 【25 分】
