Starbucks locations serve hot and cold drinks, whole-bean coffee, microground instant coffee known as VIA, espresso, caffe latte, full- and loose-leaf teas including Teavana tea products, Evolution Fresh juices, Frappuccino beverages, pastries, and snacks. Some offerings (including their Pumpkin Spice Latte) are seasonal or specific to the locality of the store.

The first Starbucks store was opened in Seattle, Washington, on March 30, 1971, by three partners, Jerry Baldwin, Zev Siegl, and Gordon Bowker, who first met while they were students at the University of San Francisco. They were inspired to sell high-quality coffee beans and equipment by a coffee roasting entrepreneur Alfred Peet after he taught them his style of roasting beans. Why did the company choose the name Starbuck? Bowker recalled that Terry Heckler, with whom Bowker owned an advertising agency, thought words beginning with "st" were powerful. Then the founders brainstormed a list of words beginning with "st". Someone pulled out an old mining map of the Cascade Range and saw a mining town named "Starbo", which immediately reminded Bowker of "Starbuck," the name of the chief mate in the novel Moby-Dick.

It was in the early 1980s that Starbucks first became profitable, and despite an initial economic downturn with its expansion into the Midwest and British Columbia in the late 1980s, the company experienced revitalized prosperity with its entry into California in the early 1990s. The first Starbucks store outside North America was opened in Tokyo in 1996. Now overseas properties constitute nearly one third of its stores. The company has been growing fast since the mid-1980s. Today, Starbucks operates 23,768 locations in the world.
